

the Levy court of Washington county, to levy a sum of money for the erection of a bridge over the Antietam, at or near the old bridge, on Samuel M. Hitts, farm, with the following amendments viz:

Section 1. line 3d after the word "empowered," insert "if they consider the same right and necessary."

Same section, 6th line strike out the words 'not exceeding in the whole three thousand dollars,' add the following as the 3d section.

"And be it enacted, That no levy exceeding in amount the sum of one thousand dollars in any one year shall be laid by the levy court of Washington county, for the purpose aforesaid." Which amendments were read and assented to.

The said bill was then read a second and by special order, a third time, passed with the proposed amendments and was returned to the House of Delegates.

The Senate proceeded again to take up for consideration the bill entitled, a supplement to an act entitled, an act to regulate the issuing of Licences to traders, keepers of ordinaries and others, passed at December session 1827, chapter 117, the same being the order of the day.

On the third reading of the bill Mr. Kennedy, proposed to amend the same.

The President having stated as his opinion that it was not in order to amend the bill, the same being in the opinion of the chair, a money bill. From this decision of the President, Mr. Kennedy, prayed an appeal which was accordingly taken, and the President propounded the question. Will the Senate sustain the opinion of the chair.
